

Assignment - 1

Q1) Define weakness and strength each in a sentence

Weakness is where a person might face challenges in adapting compared to others where as strength is something that makes a person better adaptable than most.

Q2) What's your greatest weakness in your opinion?

My greatest weakness has to be lack of consistency. And leaving some work mid way in favor of learning something new.

Q3) What do people most often criticize about you?

① I stay indoors most of the times instead of going outside with them.

② I don't engage in other activities until I've done something I started.

Q4) What's the biggest criticism you've received from your

(i) & Parents - I am not as hardworking as my brother.

(ii) Sibling - I am not consistent

(iii) Relatives - I don't go out and meet with them.

(iv) Friends - I am too loud sometimes.

(v) Teachers - I don't ask questions often.

Q5) What do you find are the most difficult decisions to make and why?

The most difficult decisions to make in my opinion has to be ^{letting go of} friends that were initially calm and patient but later turned out to be toxic and impatient.

They can be bad to our overall wellbeing and are not really our friends. Breaking friendship with them is a harsh yet crucial decision.

Q6) How do you handle failure?

Failure in my opinion can be handled by looking back at one's past and imagining times when we were in bigger problem than this one and how we got out of it. This is personally my own motivation.

I remember when back in 10th grade I failed my chemistry exam. It was the first time I ever failed in an important exam. It was my all time low and I just wanted it to end. I was depressed but thanks to the support of my friends and family, I studied hard and did well in future exams. Now whenever I'm in a problem, I look back and feel confident about dealing with my current problem.

Q7) How do you handle success?

I handle success by not becoming overconfident and doing what made me achieve the success in the first place.

Q8) How do you view yourself and why among the following?

- (i) Calm or aggressive
- (ii) Patient or impatient
- (iii) Laid Back or dominating
- (iv) Confident or submissive
- (v) Social or reserved

I see myself as calm as I don't usually lose my cool. Patient because I have the habit of getting lost in my own world whenever I am waiting for something.

Laid back as I don't ~~take mistakes~~ like to command others.

Confident as I can convey my messages easily to others.

Social, even though I am an introvert I don't have social ~~anx~~ anxiety. I like to stay alone but that hasn't stopped me from making friends at random places.

Q9) who do you compare yourself to and why?

I compare myself to my old self as it reminds me how much have I improved as a person.

Q10) What major challenges have you faced so far and how did you handle them?

Taking PCM after my 10th grade was the biggest challenge, I handled it by studying hard.

Q11) What was the biggest compliment you've received so far?

The biggest compliment I ever received was one from my friend that told me I am a good motivator.

Q12) What have you learnt from your mistakes?

Distribute and do work on a daily basis, if it piles up and you have to do it before a deadline, it will be a disaster.

Q13) What motivates you?

My friends that were during my all time and my past self that somehow got out of every big problem known to mankind.

Q14) What's your greatest strength in your opinion?

My strength has to be computers. I am the tech support guy of my friends and family and I'm quite good at problem solving.

Q15) How will your strength help you go ahead in life and be successful?

I am doing BTECH CSE so my strength in computers will definitely benefit me. as ~~I~~ I'm good at problem solving.

Q16) What have you achieved so far on the basis of your strength?

Not much but I was able to score 98/100 in my computer practicals, ~~I~~ and I've been a student with good grades in CS in general.